

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Academic Skills I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83111
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA TAKEDA RUIKO NAKAMURA YOICHI MURATA NOBUYUKI YABUTA YUKIKO GOTO SHINOBU NAKAJIMA TAKURO MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this class, students will practice mainly "reading and writing" activities in a small class of seven instructors to acquire study skills (note-taking, report writing, writing, and research). At the same time, the e-portfolio "SJC Manaba" will be utilized to build up one's student life and acquire the habit of striving for one's goals. Through writing a final report on the theme of "Women and Careers," students will deepen their understanding of careers as a way of life and improve their career development skills. In addition, students will meet with the person in charge to facilitate their autonomous study and life at the junior college.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication Studies, "Ⅲ Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills," improve "I Basic Working Skills and Career Development Skills," and improve "V-② Thinking Skills and Thinking Ability. Specifically, the goal is to develop the learning skills necessary to study the specialized subjects of the department through reading and writing.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class participation and attitude 50%, submission of reports and other assignments 50%.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Academic Skills II
ナンバリング／Numbering	83112
担当教員名／Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA TAKEDA RUIKO NAKAMURA YOICHI MURATA NOBUYUKI YABUTA YUKIKO GOTO SHINOBU NAKAJIMA TAKURO MORIMOTO YUKO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	In conjunction with the career design class, students will work on themes that simulate job hunting and higher education. The first half of the course will be a presentation assignment for the purpose of self-promotion, while the second half will deal with occupations and job categories. Through preparation for the assignment, students will understand basic presentation skills, types and characteristics, how to use tools, and how to give an easy-to-understand presentation. In the second half of the class, students will prepare an occupational presentation and make a group presentation at the Seisen Festival. Through the class, students will acquire the following four skills: 1) the ability to think of a story for a short presentation, 2) the ability to gather information to construct a story, 3) the ability to devise a method of expression to communicate to others, and 4) the ability to give a short presentation in collaboration with peers. The content of the assignments discussed in this class is directly related to job-hunting activities. The content of the assignments discussed in this class will be directly related to job hunting.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to acquire "basic knowledge and learning skills," which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Specifically, the course aims to improve "communication and expression skills" through a presentation assignment for self-promotion, and to improve "basic working skills and career development skills" through preparation for a company introduction presentation assignment.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	In-class activities (30%), assignments (4 speeches, 10% per speech, total 40%), final presentation (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 1
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course will be offered from the academic year 2023. The content is almost the same as that of "Seminar for Graduation Research I (Katase). Today's affluent life is supported by the information society and energy. In the information society, the rapid development of artificial intelligence has led to the construction of smart cities and other dream societies. On the other hand, it is essential to build a sustainable society where energy resources, innovation, and people can coexist. There are many challenges to achieve this goal. In this seminar, students will discover such issues through fieldwork and surveys, and cultivate practical problem-solving skills by seeking solutions to these issues.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," improve "basic skills for working adults and career development," and improve "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to acquire "applied skills to synthesize research and production activities related to the environment and information fields," to improve "the ability to think critically as a member of society," and to improve "all five Seisen Spirit skills through research activities.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Results of assignments (1) and (2) (50%), results of Small report for each session (20%), Results of group activities (20%), Positive attitude toward seminar activities in general (5%), Educational goal report (5%) Results of group activities (20%) Positive attitude toward seminar activities in general (5%), and Report on educational goals (5%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 2
担当教員名 / Instructor	GOTO SHINOBU
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Based on the first year's "Anthropology" and "Introduction to Christianity," the overall objective of the specialized seminar, which runs through the spring and fall semesters, is for each student to carefully explore and work on a research theme that is in line with his or her past progress and vision for the future. Prior to the selection of a theme, the spring semester is a step into the Catholic world through actual acts. In the required "Introduction to Christianity," students learned about "Christianity" at their desks, but in this seminar, they will experience some of the acts of a "Christian. For example, reading the Bible carefully, singing (or playing) chants, attending campus Masses, and so on. Attending Mass will be an opportunity to come into contact with the Sacred Heart of Jesus, which continues beyond time and space. Reading the Bible while reflecting on each word used and actually playing a piece of music in praise of God will lead to a physical or tangible acceptance of what you have superficially understood in the "Introduction to Christianity. Through such experiences, we hope that you will uncover the "questions" that you, as a human being, have at the root of your being, and find a research theme that you can truly and proactively tackle in the Fall Semester's Special Seminar II. (This is an approximate schedule)
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, namely, "applied skills and expertise in each field," "basic skills for working adults and career development," and "all five powers of the Seisen Spirit. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "the ability to look at the world from a broad perspective and to question people," to improve "the ability to interact with people through words," and to improve "the ability to formulate questions on one's own, to work on clarifying questions with a plan, and to write about what one has thought about.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Degree of participation in class 50%. Depth of reflection and accuracy of verbalization and writing 50%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 3
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The goal of this course is to enhance the learning outcomes V "ability to discover problems" and "ability to think and think. Specifically, the course will provide an overview of the systems and how they are used, focusing on the social insurance and social welfare systems that are necessary for working and living in society in the future. While acquiring general basic knowledge, students will examine structural issues such as contradictions in the systems and why they are in place, and consider where the need for reform lies, based on the fact that social security systems are subject to change according to socioeconomic and financial circumstances.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills" and "Ability to Discover Problems and Think and Think". Specifically, the course aims to enable students to understand the outline of the social security system and to be able to investigate and express their thoughts on the issues of the system corresponding to life risks according to their life stages.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(1) Five class comprehension quizzes (50%), (2) Two problem finding sheets (20%), (3) Group presentation (10%), (4) End-of-term report (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 4
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJIMA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this seminar, students will engage in practical activities to flesh out the knowledge of "modern enterprise theory" and "marketing" learned in the first year. Specifically, students are challenged to run their own small businesses (sole proprietorships) by taking hints from "sidelines" and "entrepreneurship," which have become popular topics in recent years. In the process of this challenge, they will make a quantum leap from the state of simply "knowing it in my head" to the growth stage of "actually being able to do it." In this seminar, classes will be conducted in principle based on the activity plans discussed and agreed upon among the students. Therefore, each student is expected to show a strong sense of "independence" and "proactivity."
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the International Communication Department: "III Applied skills and expertise in each field," "I Career development skills and basic skills for working adults," and "IV The five Seisen Spirit skills (all)". Specifically, the goals are to acquire "practical techniques/skills," improve "consensus-building skills," and foster "independence/activity."
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(1) Attitude toward class participation (50%) (2) Contribution to the class as a whole (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 5
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this seminar, students will set a research theme based on their own interests and concerns, and engage in exploratory activities to consider and critically examine the issues therein. As a methodology for this, students will learn practically how to write a report summarizing their own ideas. As a summary of the spring semester, students will formulate the framework of their graduation report, compile it into a PowerPoint slide presentation for the midterm presentation, and present it at the Seisen Festival. The goal is to enhance the students' ability to discover problems and devise solutions to them, while applying the knowledge gained in the specialized courses of the International Course.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication "Ⅲ Applied and specialized skills in each field," to improve "I Career development and basic skills for working adults," and to improve "IV The five Seisen Spirit skills (all) from (1) to (5). Specifically, the goal is to prepare students to examine a wide range of issues in their fields of interest from a critical perspective, and to prepare a thesis report on these issues.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Overall graduation research: 50%. Preparation of the framework of the graduation report and slides for the interim presentation: 50%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 6
担当教員名 / Instructor	MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The theme is "Korean Sister School Exchange and International Understanding. Students will learn the basics of international understanding, cross-cultural exchange, and Japan-Korea exchange through literature, etc., and take responsibility for the successful completion of sister school exchange projects. The program will be carried out in cooperation with the Center for International Exchange. Specific projects and activities will include (1) taking care of semester exchange students coming from Hanyang Women's University (spring and fall, respectively), (2) program to visit Hanyang (late June): welcome party, Japanese culture class, etc., and (3) the same program to visit Hanyang (early September): questionnaire survey, etc. will be conducted at Hanyang, which will lead to the fall semester This will lead to individual graduation research in the fall semester. The important thing is to take action, interact with many people, and take responsibility for completing your assignments. Depending on the new corona infection situation and other factors, it is anticipated that the exchange itself may become impossible due to the inability to travel between Japan and Korea, but in that case, we plan to incorporate online exchange with our sister schools and exchange projects with Korean residents in Japan as much as possible.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the course are to acquire "applied skills and expertise in each field," to improve "basic skills for working adults and career development," and to improve "the 5 Seisen Spirit (all). Specifically, we aim to acquire and improve the following (1) Communication skills (within teams and between different cultures), (2) Sense of responsibility and planning skills (ability to identify problems, think, and devise), (3) Business thinking, methods, and manners, (4) Teamwork and management skills (execution skills)
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Research reports on international understanding, cross-cultural exchange, and Korean culture 50%. Degree of participation in each project, results of operation 50%.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング／Numbering	83131 7
担当教員名／Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	The objective of this course is to develop "the ability to discover issues in the international business environment, devise solutions, plan, and implement problem-solving activities" while nurturing a rich sense of humanity in order to play an active role in an internationalized society. The following activities will be conducted while focusing on problem solving in the international business environment, such as inbound tourism and cross-cultural understanding that leads to hospitality manners. (1) Preparatory study for problem-solving activities (2) Acquisition of knowledge and skills necessary for problem-solving activities (3) Investigate the process of problem-solving activities by conducting a literature review and understanding the current situation through work. (4) Prepare presentation materials and present the problem-solving activities
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," "basic skills for working adults and career development," and "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to improve the ability to "recognize what problems exist in the international business environment through group work," "be able to discuss issues clearly," and "be able to present opinions clearly.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Attitude and efforts to participate in this class (50%), results of assignments (1) to (4) (40%), group presentation (10%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	83131 8
担当教員名 / Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In an age when diversity is important and many things are done across national borders, the qualities of a Global Citizen are becoming more and more important. This course aims to develop English language and intercultural communication skills under the theme "Be a global citizen!" From the first to the fifth session, students will learn about strengthening English language skills and intercultural communication through reading literature. The exchange activity involves a project with students from our sister university, the University of Calgary. After creating a plan online, the students will conduct research on a topic set by each group in person. They then use Book Creator to create a deliverable. At the end of the spring term, students summarise their learning and make a presentation. Classes are basically conducted in English.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This subject aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: 'applied skills and specialisation in each field', 'basic skills for working adults and career development', and 'the five Seisen spirit skills (all)'. Specifically, the goals are to acquire 'knowledge of a multicultural society', to improve 'the ability to think through literature reading and presentations' and to improve 'the ability to communicate and act through international work camps'.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	In-class activities 50%, Exchange activities 30%, Individual presentations 20%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	83132 1
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course will be offered from the academic year 2023. The content is almost the same as that of "Seminar for Graduation Research I (Katase). Today's affluent life is supported by the information society and energy. In the information society, the rapid development of artificial intelligence has led to the construction of smart cities and other dream societies. On the other hand, it is essential to build a sustainable society where energy resources, innovation, and people can coexist. There are many challenges to achieve this goal. In this seminar, students will discover such issues through fieldwork and surveys, and cultivate practical problem-solving skills by seeking solutions to these issues.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," improve "basic skills for working adults and career development," and improve "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to acquire "applied skills to synthesize research and production activities related to the environment and information fields," to improve "the ability to think critically as a member of society," and to improve "all five Seisen Spirit skills through research activities.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Each research report (55%), the research reports or productions (30%), results of Presentation results (10%), and Educational goal report (5%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	83132 2
担当教員名 / Instructor	GOTO SHINOBU
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Students write their graduation thesis as the culmination of their studies at junior college. The main objective of the Seminar II is to find a research theme that each student is satisfied with and to complete the thesis in accordance with the rules of thesis writing. In order to achieve this goal, each student will narrow down his or her research theme and begin writing the thesis by comparing the contents of the literature and materials read during the spring and summer semesters with his or her own inner self - what do I want to know? While these activities are basically conducted on an individual basis, it is also essential to receive opinions and objections from seminar members and faculty members in the writing process. Students then develop their ideas, gather and read further literature and materials, and aim to give form to their own ideas. The Seisen Festival will be an opportunity for them to practice presenting their ideas in a way that others can understand them correctly. (This is an approximate schedule)
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," "basic skills for working adults and career development," and "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to acquire "the ability to recognize the meaning of one's own existence and role in human society," "the ability to discuss with others in order to think more deeply," and "the ability to accurately communicate and appropriately express what one has summarized.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Graduation research 80% Class participation 20%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	83132 3
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In order to compare and contrast women's lives in classic British literature with those of modern Japanese women, students will be assigned a short report on their impressions of a modern Japanese romance novel that they have all reviewed and decided to read during the summer vacation. In the fall semester, each student will compare the love lives, marriages, and lives of women in 19th century England with those of modern Japanese women, examining the impact of different social circumstances, considering universality and commonality, and writing a paper on a theme of their choice. Consider something common to all human beings, a universal theme, by comparing the way of life of young women in different times and different countries, especially marriage, with their own way of life.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," "basic skills for working adults and career development," and "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to learn "how to prepare a resume," to improve "expression and presentation skills," and to improve "thinking skills.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Assignment Submission 50% (Contemporary Japanese Fiction Reading Report 20%, Summary of Reading and Comparative Perspective Resume 20%, Thesis Outline 10%) Thesis content 20%, 2 presentations (midterm and final) 20%, Seisen Festival participation & Seisen Spirit reflection submission 10%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	83132 4
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJIMA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this seminar, students will engage in practical activities to flesh out the knowledge of "modern enterprise theory" and "marketing" learned in the first year. Specifically, students are challenged to run their own small businesses (sole proprietorships) by taking hints from "sidelines" and "en Students write their graduation thesis as the culmination of their studies at junior college. The main objective of the Seminar II is to find a research theme that each student is satisfied with and to complete the thesis in accordance with the rules of thesis writing. In order to achieve this goal, each student will narrow down his or her research theme and begin writing the thesis by comparing the contents of the literature and materials read during the spring and summer semesters with his or her own inner self - what do I want to know? While these activities are basically conducted on an individual basis, it is also essential to receive opinions and objections from seminar members and faculty members in the writing process. Students then develop their ideas, gather and read further literature and materials, and aim to give form to their own ideas. The Seisen Festival will be an opportunity for them to practice presenting their ideas in a way that ottrepreneurship," which have become popular topics in recent years. In the process of this challenge, they will make a quantum leap from the state of simply "knowing it in my head" to the growth stage of "actually being able to do it. In this seminar, classes will be conducted in principle based on the activity plans discussed and agreed upon among the students. Therefore, each student is expected to show a strong sense of "independence" and "proactivity.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the International Communication Department: "III Applied skills and expertise in each field," "I Career development skills and basic skills for working adults," and "IV The five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to acquire "practical techniques/skills," improve "consensus-building skills," and foster "independence/activity.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(1) Attitude toward class participation (50%) (2) Contribution to the class as a whole (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	83132 5
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this seminar, students will set a theme based on their own interests and concerns, examine and critically examine the issues therein, conduct exploratory activities, and summarize the results in a graduation report. The seminar will begin with preparation for the mid-term presentation at the Seisen Festival, and through mutual evaluation and discussion, lead to the preparation of each student's graduation report.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "Ⅲ Applied and specialized skills in each field," "Ⅰ Career development and basic skills for working adults," and "Ⅳ All five Seisen Spirit skills (1) to (5). Specifically, the goal is for each student to examine a wide range of issues in his/her field of interest from a critical perspective, and to summarize them in a graduation thesis report.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Overall Graduation Research: 50%. Graduation report: 50%.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング／Numbering	83132 6
担当教員名／Instructor	MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	The theme is "Korean Sister School Exchange and International Understanding. In the fall semester, the students will compile and analyze the exchange activities and research conducted during the spring and summer vacations in accordance with the research theme related to international understanding, and finally, they will finalize their graduation research by the end of the year after an exhibition or presentation at the Seisen Festival in October. I am also in charge of taking care of the semester exchange students from Hanyang. The goal is to complete the final project in the form of a thesis of about 15 A4 pages. The graduation research is a major project that can be said to be the culmination of your two years at the junior college, and it is the sum total of your abilities. Challenge yourselves to the best of your ability. Depending on the situation with the new corona infection and other factors, it may be impossible to travel between Japan and Korea, and the exchange itself may not be possible, but in that case, we plan to incorporate online exchange with our sister schools as much as possible.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	The department's learning outcomes "applied skills and expertise in each field", "basic skills for working adults and career development", and "the 5 Seisen Spirit (all)" are aimed to be improved. Specifically, the goal is to enhance "the ability to think and think" and "the ability to communicate and express" in the process of creating graduation research.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Compilation and analysis of the results of the Hanyang Visiting Program survey 20%, Interim presentation of graduation research (presentation at the Seisen Festival) 10% Care of foreign students in Hanyang Semester 10%, Preparation of graduation research 50%, Presentation of graduation research 10%.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング／Numbering	83132 7
担当教員名／Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Students will conduct research and individual studies in their own fields of interest, utilizing what they have experienced and learned in the Special Seminar I. They will also consider the issues involved in each topic from a broad perspective and complete a research report. They will also consider issues related to each theme from a broad perspective and complete a research report. In the mid-term presentation, seminar members will evaluate each other's work and brush up their expression methods, aiming to be able to make clearer assertions. Through the mid-term presentation, students will improve their communication and presentation skills, and afterwards, they will have time for individual discussion to further deepen their consideration and finalize their reports. The goal is for students to be able to present with confidence at the Seisen Festival.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "applied skills and expertise in each field," improve "basic skills for working adults and career development," and improve "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all)". Specifically, the goals are to acquire "the skills to summarize, describe, and explain research", to improve "the ability to act systematically toward goals set by oneself", and to "be able to express one's own opinions and contribute to the group while respecting group members".
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Individual research efforts and class activities (15%), research progress report (15%), interim presentation (15%) Presentation at Seisen Festival rehearsal (15%), content of graduation research report (40%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Special Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	83132 8
担当教員名 / Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course aims to develop English language and intercultural communication skills with the aim of "Be a global citizen!" In the autumn term, students will continue to focus on strengthening their English language skills and will also conduct research on topics of their own interest and summarise and present their findings. The first half of the term will consist of an oral presentation and the second half will consist of report writing. Both will be conducted in English, allowing students to further develop their English language skills.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," "basic skills for working adults and career development," and "the five Seisen Spirit skills (all). Specifically, the goals are to acquire a "deep understanding of a multicultural society" and to improve "the ability to think" and "the ability to identify problems" through the writing of graduation reports.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Classroom attitude 20%, Oral presentation 40%, Report 40%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Communication
ナンバリング / Numbering	83211
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA NAKAJIMA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Active learning methods (group work, presentations, etc.) will be utilized throughout the class. In the first half of the class, students will learn through experience (group work) to understand the mistakes and difficulties they are likely to make when communicating with others. In the second half, participants will become aware of their own behavioral styles (strengths and weaknesses) through diagnosis. Then, taking into consideration the characteristics of each behavioral style that are likely to occur in various situations, the participants will try to acquire productive communication and problem-solving skills.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication Studies, "I. Basic skills for working adults and career development," "Basic knowledge and learning skills," and "Seisen Spirit (communication skills)". Specifically, the goals are to improve "communication skills and self-analysis necessary for working adults" and "communication skills through group activities".
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	60% of each short report, 20% of the first half summary report, 20% of the second half summary report

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Career Design
ナンバリング / Numbering	83231
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	To develop women's active participation in society and leadership skills, which are required in an era where men and women are building society on an equal footing. Students will understand that "career" is "the power to live," consider the meaning of work and money, conduct self-analysis, and from the experiences of second-year students and graduates, consider what is necessary for women when thinking about their long life careers. In addition, students will learn how to write a resume and entry sheet, and take the Web SPI, aptitude test, and basic Japanese language proficiency test as part of their job-hunting activities. In addition to classes, students will participate in the Career Center's activities, such as job hunting guidance, to enhance their career skills.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "I Career Development Skills and Basic Social Skills," and "IV (1) to (5) Power of Seisen Spirit 5 (all). Specifically, the course aims to broaden students' basic knowledge and thinking in career development, to think about women and careers, and to broaden their "foundation for developing their individuality and abilities".
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	In-class activities: Hourly worksheets, self-analysis, resume: 80% SJC Learning (SPI course): 20%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Career Development
ナンバリング / Numbering	83232
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	YEAR ROUND
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this course, students will prepare for examinations for career paths other than employment, based on the necessary preparation procedures for job hunting (self-analysis, entry sheets, and resumes) acquired in "Career Design". Mainly, how and when to prepare for transfer examinations at four-year universities and civil service examinations, as well as various support for career development through individual guidance. Preparation for the examinations is to clearly set higher-order goals. Class content includes participation in transfer guidance, individual interviews with the Career Support Center, mock examinations, and study for certification exams such as the English Proficiency Test. Students will plan and carry out their studies on their own, and aim to increase their sense of self-efficacy through improving the level of academic ability and qualifications they wish to attain, and to be able to exercise their independence by advancing their self-analysis.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "I. Basic skills for working adults and career development," "III. Basic knowledge and learning skills," and "IV-(2) Thinking skills and thinking ability. Specifically, the goal is to improve students' ability to set their own goals and take on challenges in career development, and to acquire the "ability to take action" to proactively develop their careers by actively seeking advice to supplement any basic knowledge that is lacking.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Assignments 80% (self-analysis, research of application guidelines and submission of study plan (20%), work on qualification and exam preparation questions (30%), essay questions (30%)) Individual interview and reflection 20%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Business Administration
ナンバリング / Numbering	83311
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	There is an old saying, "Look at the trees and don't see the forest. This is a very suggestive phrase for new students who are about to start learning about business. This is because, without knowing the whole picture of corporate activities (the forest), if you try to start from the branches and leaves of specialized knowledge (the trees), you will often get lost and wonder what you are learning (or trying to learn). What is important is to first understand (even if only dimly) the map that describes the whole picture of corporate activities. Therefore, in this lecture, we will take a bird's-eye view of corporate activities from a high vantage point and lay bare the "contours" of the overall picture. In other words, the purpose of this lecture is to acquire the "basic knowledge" of business in general, which is necessary for taking lectures in the fall semester of the first year and thereafter. Students will learn by touching on specific examples so that they can apply the knowledge to their practical work. By attending this lecture, students will be able to understand the overall picture of business activities, and it will serve as a compass when moving on to the specialized courses in the second year.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication "II Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", to improve "IV-① Ability to identify problems", and to improve "IV-② Ability to think and think". Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic knowledge of corporate activities," improve "the ability to identify important management issues from overall corporate activities," and improve "the ability to solve identified management issues," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz (50%), Quiz report (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Marketing
ナンバリング / Numbering	83312
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	For consumers, there has never been a more convenient time than today. A visit to the supermarket is a cheap and easy way to obtain a wide variety of daily necessities. On the other hand, for businesses, there has never been a more difficult time. Competition with rivals is intensifying year by year, and products are not selling well without ingenuity. In this lecture, you will learn how to get consumers to buy your products, in other words, "marketing. However, the term "marketing" covers a wide range of content and areas. Therefore, in this lecture, emphasis will be placed on "customer orientation," which is the premise of marketing, while unraveling classic marketing theories and learning with abundant examples. In addition, from the 11th class onward, the class will be an exercise-based class. Students will be asked to come up with a marketing plan to solve a business problem from a real company and present it to the class. By attending this lecture, you will be able to grasp the intuition of how to improve sales.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "II Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills," to improve "IV-(2) Ability to Think and Thinking," and to improve "IV-(3) Ability to Devise. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "Marketing Framework," improve "Ability to identify business issues," and improve "Ability to develop marketing plans," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz (80%), Presentation (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Economics
ナンバリング / Numbering	83313
担当教員名 / Instructor	KAWAKITA YASUNOBU
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	First, we believe that it is important to have an interest in economics. We will provide a broad and shallow overview of economics and aim to achieve the following three goals. First, to understand the issues and basic knowledge of macroeconomics and microeconomics. Second, to be able to analyze the real world from the perspective of economics. Third, to understand the basic words and phrases required for the civil service examination. The plan will be modified according to the students' interests and level of understanding.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "III Basic Knowledge and Study Skills," to improve "V-① Ability to Discover Problems," and to improve "V-② Ability to Think and Cogitate," respectively. Specifically, students will acquire "basic knowledge about the economy and a deeper understanding of the relationship between Japan and the world economy," and "the ability to discover the meaning and problems and think about them through an interest in economic news," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(20% reaction paper, 40% submission of assignments (5 assigned books and assignments as needed), 41% final exam)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Political Science
ナンバリング / Numbering	83314
担当教員名 / Instructor	YAMAMOTO KEISUKE
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed to provide students with a basic knowledge and understanding of contemporary political theory. The first half of the course provides an overview of the theoretical currents (mainly liberalism and democracy) that form the basis for thinking about the political order today. The middle half of the lecture will deal with important topics in political theory with the "individual" as the starting point, and the second half will deal with ideas in political theory that concern the "we."
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "III. Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", "V-①". This course is designed to improve the students' ability to discover problems, and to improve their ability to think. The course aims to improve "V-(1) Ability to discover problems" and "V-(2) Ability to think and think. Specifically, the objectives are (1) to deepen students' understanding of the basic ideas underlying today's political order, and (2) to acquire the ability to think about today's politics in one's own way through the political theories learned in the course.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Final exam or final report 50%, small (mid-term) report 30%. Submissions such as reflection papers and other materials, and efforts to attend lectures: 20%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Social Thought
ナンバリング / Numbering	83315
担当教員名 / Instructor	GOTO SHINOBU
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The institutions and structures that make up human society would not exist without human ideas. In this sense, society and thought are inseparably related, but the relationship between the two is rarely immediately apparent to the naked eye, and in most cases it is not apparent without taking the trouble to study it. In this course, students will study representative classical ideas that have influenced human society today. The method is to actually read the literature in which those ideas are written. It would be perfect if you could feel the interaction between society and thought, but please do not expect this course to be easy to understand, because sometimes "ease of understanding" can distort the essence of the subject matter. Through the class, students should aim to become interested in the background and cause-and-effect relationships of various phenomena around them through a steady process of thinking.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	To know the ideas underlying today's social systems and structures as a basic education necessary for working adults. Also, to be able to apply what they have learned in class, to think for themselves about matters not covered in class, and to discover where the problems lie.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Undecided (either a report or a final exam, which students can bring their own notebooks)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Community Theory
ナンバリング / Numbering	83316
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this course, students will learn about the issues facing the town in which they live, including (1) reduction of public transportation, (2) countermeasures against population decline, and (3) disaster countermeasures, through lectures and individual surveys. The goal of this course is to improve students' ability to think about what they can do for their own town by investigating what measures residents and the government are taking to solve problems in order to think about "the conditions for a town where people can continue to live forever".
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "Basic Knowledge," "Ability to Discover Problems (Investigation)," and "Ability to Think and Cogitate. Specifically, the goals of this course are "to be able to introduce oneself to one's own town and to be able to think about solutions to familiar regional issues from multiple perspectives.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	1) Three quizzes (30%), 2) Worksheets and survey sheets (40%), 3) Submission of in-class assignments (10%), 4) Group presentation (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	International Current Affairs
ナンバリング / Numbering	83317
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this course, students will summarize world problems requiring international cooperation (global environment, poverty disparity, conflict, etc.) by reading and understanding them through videos and newspaper articles, and develop the class by writing an essay on what they understand about the international situation and background factors. In addition to subscribing to literature on the state of international cooperation, group work will be used to enhance the students' ability to consider the causes of the problems. Although this course is designed for beginning students interested in international cooperation, students will enhance their ability to express their own opinions on world issues through a learning style in which they not only listen to lectures but also conduct their own research, read literature, and summarize their findings in reports.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes III "Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills" and IV "Problem-finding and Thinking Skills and Thinking Ability" of the Department of International Communication.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(1) worksheet for understanding global issues (40%), (2) essay (40%), (4) reaction paper, frequency of submission of preliminary work (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Community Service
ナンバリング / Numbering	84111
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	YEAR ROUND
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course aims to improve students' ability to take action, to discover social issues, and to think of solutions to problems. Specifically, students will participate as volunteers in NPO activities in Nagano Prefecture that are working to solve various social issues, and learn about the reality of NPO activities through hands-on experience. The class will reflect on what social problems need to be solved in the fields they experienced and what they can do to solve them, and compile a report on their findings. Since NPO activities are spread across a diverse range of fields, the students will be given community service experiences in practices related to "child poverty," which has been the focus of attention in recent years, and in support activities related to disasters. The junior college class will focus on pre- and post-learning to deepen students' thinking about the meaning of the experience and social issues. In addition, this course will be linked with the Nagano Prefecture NPO Center's "Regional Marugoto Campus" project, and students will be introduced to volunteer activity sites.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "Ability to take action," "Ability to identify problems," and "Ability to think and think."
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(1) Pre- and post-study assignments (40%), (2) Volunteer activity plans and activity reports (40%), (3) End-of-term reports (20%)

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Service Learning
ナンバリング／Numbering	84112
担当教員名／Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO
学期／Semester	YEAR ROUND
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Service learning is a subject in which students learn through service (or volunteer work aimed at voluntary social contribution) activities. The goal of service learning activities is to get out of the classroom and into society, to find issues while dealing with individuals and society, and to be able to think about social issues as one's own personal matter. Students will prepare through prior learning, verbalize (report) what they have thought and learned through the experience, and culminate in a presentation of the final results. The destination of the activity is undecided at this point, but we are considering fields such as the environment, welfare, and education. Activities will take place between the spring semester and summer vacation.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	Aiming to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "the ability to take action," "the ability to identify problems," and "the ability to formulate a career and basic skills for working adults.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Pre-study assignment 30%, activity plan and activity report 30%, end-of-term report 20%, presentation of results 20%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Internships
ナンバリング / Numbering	84113
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	YEAR ROUND
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Practice

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	To understand the significance and purpose of internship and acquire basic behaviors as a member of society. In the practical training, students aim to deepen their reflection on working and learning in relation to their prior learning and research on the internship site. In addition, the internship provides an opportunity to analyze one's own strengths and weaknesses and to think about one's place in society. In the event that the practical training is less than 7 days, students are required to participate in additional volunteer activities equivalent to the number of hours of practical training. The program consists of 8 pre-service training sessions, practical training (at least 7 days), and post-service training. Students are expected to prepare for the practical training and proceed with the practical training while maintaining reliable communication with the person in charge of the training site, the faculty member in charge, the Career Support Center, students who have experienced the internship, and their classmates. Textbook-based work will be conducted using SJC Manaba as the assignment for each session.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the International Communication Department: "Basic Adult and Career Development Skills", "Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", and "All Five Seisen Spirit Skills (All)". Specifically, the goals are to improve "the ability to work in a team of basic skills for working adults," to acquire "basic honorifics and business manners," and to improve "all five Seisen Spirit skills through practical training experiences," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	The student will receive a "pass" or "fail" grade based on the student's independent efforts in class, submission of assignments and documents, reporting, daily practical training reports, etc., and the company's evaluation of the student's practical training. If the company's evaluation is extremely low, an individual interview may be conducted to determine whether the student passes or fails.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Project Management
ナンバリング／Numbering	84114
担当教員名／Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA TAKEDA RUIKO NAKAMURA YOICHI MURATA NOBUYUKI YABUTA YUKIKO GOTO SHINOBU NAKAJIMA TAKURO MORIMOTO YUKO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Students will actually manage department events as a team while learning through experience the process of planning, work assignment, time management, etc., by viewing the management of department events as real-life work. By thinking and acting for this purpose, students will acquire the basics of how to proceed with their work. As Big Sisters, students will formulate events and plans as a group and make specific preparations for their execution. The actual events will be held mainly in the spring semester of the following year.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication Studies: "I. Basic skills for working adults and career development," "II. The founding spirit and rich humanity," and "V. The ability to discover problems, 2. The ability to think, 3.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Class work 30%, Reflection Report I-IV 60% (15% x 4 times), Planning presentation 10%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Hangul (Korean language) I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85111
担当教員名 / Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The purpose of this course is to provide students with a general understanding of the letters and phonological system that make up the Korean writing system, word structure, and grammatical structure. In addition, students will acquire basic knowledge of linguistics through comparisons between Korean and Japanese. Students will gain a theoretical understanding of the Korean language and, based on linguistic theory, compare and study the similarities and differences between the Korean and Japanese systems. As an introduction to Hangeul, students will learn basic knowledge of Hangeul. As specific learning outcomes, the course aims to acquire the following items. <ol style="list-style-type: none">(1) Understand Hangeul's writing system, the letters and sounds that make up the writing system, Hangeul's structure, and grammatical structure.(2) Pronounce Korean correctly.(3) Deepen understanding of Korea and knowledge of Korean culture.(4) Develop the ability to think and think in Korean and improve communication and expression skills in Hangeul.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve "basic knowledge and learning skills," "communication and expression skills," and "basic working skills and career development skills. Specifically, the learning outcome goals are to be able to write Hangul characters correctly and read Hangul words at a basic level. In addition, the program aims to provide students with an opportunity to experience different cultures through learning the languages of neighboring countries and to think about the state and direction of their own language and culture.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Final exam (70%), Assignments (20%), Attendance in class (10%) Attendance in class will be emphasized.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Hangul (Korean language) II
ナンバリング／Numbering	85112
担当教員名／Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	The purpose of this course is to provide students with a general understanding of the letters, phonological system, word structure, and grammatical structure that make up the writing system of Hangeul, following Hangeul I. In addition, students will acquire basic knowledge of linguistics through comparisons between Korean and Japanese. Students will gain a theoretical understanding of the Korean language and, based on linguistic theory, compare and study the similarities and differences between the Korean and Japanese systems. Furthermore, students will improve their communication skills. This course is a continuation of Hangeul I, an introductory course in Hangeul. As specific learning outcomes, the course aims to master the following items. (1) Understand the letters, phonological system, word structure, and grammatical structure that make up the Korean writing system (2) Pronounce Korean correctly (3) Learn the theory and culture of the Korean language (4) Learn the Korean language and its culture (5) Learn the Korean language and its culture 3) Deepen knowledge of Korean theory and Korean culture. 4) Be able to read and write simple Korean.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This subject aims to improve 'basic knowledge and learning skills', 'communication and expression skills', and 'basic working skills and career development skills'. Specifically, "To be able to read the Hangul alphabet. In addition, students will deepen their interest in and understanding of different cultures through language learning, and improve their communication and expression skills.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Final exam (60%), assignments (10%), presentation (10%), and ordinary efforts in class (20%) Attitude toward class participation will be emphasized.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Hangul Conversation I
ナンバリング／Numbering	85121
担当教員名／Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Conversation is a communication skill that requires the ability to "listen to and understand what the other person is saying and at the same time convey one's intentions to the other person. For this reason, the Korean Conversation I class is designed to study the Korean language along with Hangeul I. In addition to learning to read and write Hangeul, the class focuses on exercises to improve the ability to use Hangeul. In basic pronunciation practice, students listen and repeat thoroughly so that they can understand the pronunciation of others by listening to them. In addition, students will acquire skills for smooth communication through pair work. Introduce Korean movies, Korean education, K-POP, etc. to increase interest in Korea. Learn the basics of Korean conversation.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	The main goal of the International Communication Department is to improve students' communication and expression skills, as well as to improve their basic skills for working and career development, and basic knowledge and learning skills. Specific learning outcomes include: 1) understanding of the Korean writing system, phonological system, word structure, and grammatical structure; 2) correct pronunciation of Korean; 3) ability to engage in simple Korean conversation; 4) deepening understanding of Korea and knowledge of Korean culture; 5) understanding of the Korean language and its culture; 6) understanding of the Korean language and its culture; 7) understanding of the Korean language and its culture; 8) understanding of the Korean language and its culture; 9) understanding of the Korean language and its culture; 10) understanding of the Korean language and its culture; 11) understanding of the Korean language and its culture.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Final exam (60%), class attitude and class participation (30%), quiz (10%), etc.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Hangul Conversation II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85122
担当教員名 / Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Hangeul Conversation II is a class designed to further develop students' interest in Korea. Students will experience Korean culture and study literature and art to deepen their knowledge of Korea from the previous semester. In addition, students will improve their ability to communicate smoothly through pair work. Students will further deepen their basic knowledge of Hangeul Conversation II.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	Learning Outcomes The main goal is to improve "communication and expression skills" and also to improve "basic working skills and career development skills" and "basic knowledge and learning skills". Specifically, 1) to understand Hangeul theoretically, acquire basic knowledge based on language theory, and study its similarities and differences with Japanese; 2) to acquire basic knowledge of Hangeul and improve applied Korean language skills; 3) to learn correct Korean pronunciation; 4) to acquire skills to improve communication and expression skills; and 5) to acquire skills to improve communication and expression skills. 4) Acquire skills to improve communication and expression.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Final exam (60%), presentation in Korean (20%), and class attitude (20%).

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Hangul Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85123
担当教員名 / Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Students will further deepen the sentence patterns and grammar learned in the first year and learn to create simple sentences on their own. The course will move from short sentences to long sentences, which is both the difficulty and the fun of Hangeul. There are many expressions and grammar that are naturally different from those of Japanese, so it is also an opportunity to take a fresh look at the grammar of Japanese. In addition, students will experience actual interactions with Korean university students and cultivate a spirit of cooperation. As an application of Hangeul, students will study Hangeul I and II in progress.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "basic skills for working adults and career development," "communication and expression skills," and "applied skills and expertise in each field. Specific learning outcomes include: 1) To be able to read Hangul texts correctly and write simple compositions; 2) To experience the joy of learning a foreign language; 3) To be able to communicate effectively in a foreign language; 4) To be able to communicate effectively in a foreign language; 5) To be able to communicate effectively in a foreign language; and 6) To be able to communicate effectively in a foreign language.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Final exam (50%), presentation (20%), assignments (10%), and class work (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Hangul Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85124
担当教員名 / Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The course focuses on further deepening the study of Hangeul characters, pronunciation, basic sentence patterns, etc., and on exercises such as writing and reading comprehension. We will also give consideration to the acquisition of conversational skills through a variety of role-plays between learners. We will also focus on the similarities and differences between Japanese and Korean culture in order to promote cross-cultural understanding. The course will be a continuation of Hangeul Seminar I as an applied course of Hangeul. As specific learning outcomes, the course aims to help students acquire the following items. (1) Cultivate the ability to read correctly and to engage in simple conversation. (2) Learn about the way of life of people in neighboring countries with curiosity, rather than passively.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "basic skills for working adults and career development," and to improve "communication and expression skills" and "stress and expertise in each area of study. As specific learning outcomes, the course aims to help students acquire the following: 1) to develop the ability to read correctly and to engage in simple conversation; 2) to learn about the way of life of people in neighboring countries, not passively but with curiosity; 3) to acquire the ability to communicate with people in other countries; 4) to acquire the ability to communicate with people in other countries; and 5) to acquire the ability to communicate with people in other countries.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Final exam (50%), presentation (20%), assignments (10%), and class work (20%)

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Chinese I
ナンバリング／Numbering	85131
担当教員名／Instructor	WANG QIUJU
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	This class focuses on the reading of Chinese characters, pinyin, and is designed to help students understand and master pinyin. The goal is to increase each student's interest in the Chinese language by giving them many opportunities to express themselves in Chinese, while at the same time acquiring accurate pronunciation, basic grammar, and some vocabulary. The goal and learning outcomes are to develop basic knowledge of the Chinese language, especially accurate pronunciation and listening skills, and to acquire the basic knowledge to pass the Chinese Language Proficiency Test Levels 4-4 and HSK Test Levels 1-2. The web audio/video URL and QR codes are included in the textbook, so students can use their smartphones to prepare for and review the material, in addition to using it in class. Teachers and students will ask and answer each other questions in Chinese, and students will ask and answer each other's questions.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "V. Communication and Expression Skills", "III. Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", and "I. Basic Adult and Career Development Skills". Specifically, the goals are to improve "Communication and Expression Skills in Chinese," "Basic Knowledge of Chinese," and "Basic Learning Skills in Chinese as a Career Development," respectively.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Mid-term exam (30%), final exam (40%), class work and submissions (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Chinese II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85132
担当教員名 / Instructor	WANG QIUJU
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This class is designed to help students acquire basic knowledge and study skills in Chinese and to improve their communication and expression skills. In order to further develop the basic skills developed in Chinese I, students will need to understand Chinese history and culture as well as real life in China. Students will be encouraged to improve their listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills, always keeping in mind the need to speak smoothly and to improve their listening skills. [The goal and outcome of the course is to acquire a certain level of Chinese language proficiency and to be able to pass Levels 4-4 of the Chinese Language Proficiency Test and Levels 1 and 2 of the HSK examination in March. The web audio/video URL and QR code are included in the textbook, so students can use their smartphones to prepare and review in addition to using them in class. *Faculty and students mutually ask and answer questions in Chinese, and students ask and answer questions to each other.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "V. Communication and Expression Skills", "III. Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", and "I. Basic Adult and Career Development Skills". Specifically, the goals are to improve "Communication and Expression Skills in Chinese," "Basic Knowledge of Chinese," and "Basic Learning Skills in Chinese as a Career Development," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Mid-term exam (30%), final exam (40%), class work and submissions (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Chinese Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85133
担当教員名 / Instructor	WANG QIUJU
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This class is designed to improve students' ability to apply Chinese, to acquire Chinese language skills that can be used to some extent in specialized fields, and to improve their communication and expression skills. At the beginning of the class, students will engage in simple conversations using the vocabulary and sentence patterns learned in Chinese I and II. Using newspaper articles and other materials on Chinese affairs and culture, students will expand their grammar and vocabulary while improving their overall language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing, as well as deepening their understanding of China. The goal and learning outcomes are to increase vocabulary and sentence patterns, improve listening skills, and acquire the ability to pass Levels 4-2 of the Chinese Language Proficiency Test and Levels 3-4 of the HSK Chinese Language Proficiency Test. Students will listen to the web-based audio files on their smart phones and repeat them every day. Teachers and students will ask and answer each other questions in Chinese, and students will ask and answer each other's questions.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "V. Communication and Expression Skills," "IV. Applied skills and expertise in each field," and "I. Basic skills for working adults and career development," respectively. Specifically, the goals are to improve "communication and expression skills in Chinese," "applied knowledge of Chinese," and "applied skills in Chinese used in daily life, etc.," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Mid-term exam (30%), final exam (40%), class work and submissions (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Chinese Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85134
担当教員名 / Instructor	WANG QIUJU
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This class is designed to improve students' ability to apply Chinese, to acquire Chinese language skills that can be used to some extent in specialized fields, and to improve their communication and expression skills. Students will acquire vocabulary, grammar, and sentence patterns learned in Chinese I, Chinese II, and Chinese Seminar I. They will be able to improve their listening and speaking skills through active participation in class, and will develop a certain level of reading and writing skills, with emphasis on reading and writing relatively long sentences. The goal of this class is to develop reading and writing skills by reading and analyzing practical conversational texts that touch on the situation and culture of China, on the assumption that students have already taken Chinese Seminar I. The goal and learning outcomes are to acquire the ability to pass Level 4 to 2 of the Chinese Language Proficiency Test and Level 3 to 4 of the HSK Chinese Language Proficiency Test. Students will listen to the web audio files on their smart phones and repeat them every day. Teachers and students will ask and answer each other questions in Chinese, and students will ask and answer each other's questions.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "V. Communication and Expression Skills," "IV. Applied skills and expertise in each field," and "I. Basic skills for working adults and career development," respectively. Specifically, the goals are to improve "communication and expression skills in Chinese," "applied knowledge of Chinese," and "applied skills in Chinese used in daily life, etc.," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Mid-term exam (30%), final exam (40%), class work and submissions (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Spanish I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85141
担当教員名 / Instructor	MANABE OTSUKA VIRGINIA
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed for beginning Spanish students to <ol style="list-style-type: none">1) Practice the alphabet and pronunciation.2) Listening, reading and writing basic vocabulary.3) Learn basic grammar.4) Daily conversation using simple expressions. As an introduction to learning Spanish, students will learn basic concepts about the Spanish language and acquire the ability to read, listen, write, and speak Spanish. Students will deepen their understanding of the culture and customs of Spanish-speaking countries.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "V. Communication and Expression", "III. Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", and "I. Basic Adult and Career Development Skills". Specifically, the course aims to improve the acquisition of "Basic Spanish Expressions", "Basic Spanish Vocabulary", and "Knowledge and Understanding of Spanish and Latin American Cultures", respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class participation (20%), Quiz (20%), Vocabulary test (10%) Submissions (20%), Final exam (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Spanish II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85142
担当教員名 / Instructor	MANABE OTSUKA VIRGINIA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed for those who have started with the basics of Spanish in order to <ol style="list-style-type: none">1) Expanding vocabulary and learning everyday conversation in simple expressions.2) Compose Spanish essays and read texts.3) Continue learning elementary Spanish grammar.4) Learn useful expressions while traveling. This course is an introduction to the Spanish language, a step up from Spanish I in the spring semester, and will provide students with a basic knowledge of the language. While learning grammar, students will practice speaking and listening comprehension, and learn about the customs and culture of Spanish-speaking countries.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "V. Communication and Expression", "III. Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills", and "I. Basic Adult and Career Development Skills". Specifically, the course aims to improve the acquisition of "Basic Spanish Expressions," "Basic Grammar," and "Knowledge and Understanding of Spanish and Latin American Culture," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class participation (20%), Quiz (20%), Vocabulary test (10%) Submissions (20%), Final exam (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Spanish Seminar I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85143
担当教員名 / Instructor	MANABE OTSUKA VIRGINIA
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed for students with an introductory Spanish language background to <ol style="list-style-type: none">1) Increase their vocabulary.2) Learn Spanish grammar.3) Practice daily conversation in Spanish.4) Learn useful expressions for traveling. As a beginning level Spanish course, students will acquire the ability to use everyday expressions in Spanish and to formulate and understand short sentences.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "V. Communication and Expression Skills," "IV. Specifically, the course aims to improve the acquisition of "useful expressions for daily conversation and various situations in Spanish," "simple information exchange and listening comprehension," and "knowledge and understanding of Spanish and Latin American culture," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class participation (20%), Quiz (20%), Vocabulary test (10%) Submissions (20%), Final exam (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Spanish Seminar II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85144
担当教員名 / Instructor	MANABE OTSUKA VIRGINIA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed for students who have completed an introductory course in Spanish. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1) Apply the grammar and expressions already learned using simple dialogues.2) To acquire basic grammatical knowledge and Spanish ideas and to improve their ability to express themselves.3) Compose compositions and read texts.4) Learn useful expressions while traveling. As a beginning level of Spanish language study, the course continues from Spanish Seminar I. Through role-playing and reading, students will learn new vocabulary and expressions, and acquire the communication skills necessary for everyday situations and travel.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "V. Communication and Expression", "IV. Specifically, the course aims to improve students' acquisition of "useful expressions for daily conversation and various situations in Spanish," "reading comprehension and listening comprehension," and "knowledge and understanding of Spanish and Latin American culture," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class participation (20%), Quiz (20%), Vocabulary test (10%) Submissions (20%), Final exam (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Basic English I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85211
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Using basic English texts, students will study grammar, expression, and speaking skills in a well-balanced manner, aiming to expand their four English skills. In each lesson, students express their opinions in English on familiar topics and develop the ability to persuade others; in English Communication I and II, the goal is to speak a lot in English, but in Basic English I and II, students learn grammar and exchange opinions with classmates to improve their thinking skills in English. Basic English I and II are designed to help students improve their thinking skills in English while learning grammar and exchanging opinions with classmates. Specifically, the following three points will be the learning outcomes. <ol style="list-style-type: none">(1) To be able to listen to and read English with confidence2) To be able to write and speak English with confidence(3) To be able to express one's own opinions in English
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the International Communication Department are to acquire the learning outcome "IV ④ Communication and Expression Skills" and to improve "II Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills" and "IV ① Problem-Sharing Skills". Specifically, the goals are to improve "English communication skills through expansion of the four English language skills," "basic learning skills through continuous study," and "problem-finding skills through comprehensive English language study," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Preparation 50% In-class work 30% Summary assignment 15% ELCA 5%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Basic English II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85212
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI YABUTA YUKIKO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Using basic English texts, students will study grammar, expression, and speaking skills in a well-balanced manner, aiming to expand their four English skills. In each lesson, students express their opinions in English on familiar topics and develop the ability to persuade others. Students will further develop the English skills they acquired in Basic English I. Specifically, the following three points will be the learning outcomes. (1) To be able to listen to and read English with confidence, (2) To be able to write and speak English with confidence, and (3) To be able to express your own opinions in English.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of the course are to achieve the learning outcomes of "applied skills and expertise in each field" and "communication and expression skills". In addition, through debates in English, students aim to acquire "the ability to think" and "the ability to discover problems".
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Exercise checklist 50%, quiz/word test 30%, summary assignment 15%, ELCA 5%.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	TOEIC preparation I
ナンバリング／Numbering	85231
担当教員名／Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Test of English for International Communication: Students will deepen their basic understanding of TOEIC testing points and gain tips on how to improve their scores, and improve their English listening and reading skills through practice TOEIC test questions.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	The Department of International Communication aims to improve the learning outcomes of "Ⅱ Basic knowledge and learning skills", "Ⅲ Applied ability and expertise in each field", "Ⅳ ④ Communication and expression skills", and to link them to "Ⅲ Acquisition of valid qualifications".
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Worksheet:50% In-class activities: 30%. TOEIC IP test :20%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	TOEIC preparation II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85232
担当教員名 / Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The main focus of the course is TOEIC preparation. The goal is for students to gain some confidence in taking the TOEIC test through each lesson. The students will be expected to repeat the exercises to get used to the format of the test and to get the hang of it. To improve vocabulary, grammar, grammar and listening skills in order to be able to communicate in English. The three objectives of this course are: (1) to acquire basic English skills for business situations through TOEIC preparation, (2) to acquire the ability to communicate in English, and (3) to communicate in a way that is intelligible to the other person.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The department's learning outcomes: "Acquisition of applied skills and expertise in each field," support for "acquisition of useful qualifications (TOEIC)," and improvement of "communication and expression skills" are targeted. Specifically, the course aims to "acquire the basic English skills required in business situations, explore issues in various business situations, confirm the basic English expressions used in such situations, and improve English communication skills that can be applied in actual situations".
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class Work 40%、 Mid-term Test 20%、 Final Test 20%、 TOEIC IP Test 20%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	English Phonetics
ナンバリング / Numbering	85251
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The first half of the class will focus on basic knowledge of English phonetics through literature, and the second half will focus on pronunciation and oral reading practice using speech recognition software. 15 lessons will be devoted to improving English pronunciation skills, acquiring basic knowledge of English phonetics, improving English communication and expression skills, and improving students' ability to think about English speech. The course will work on improving students' ability to think about
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "Ⅲ Applied skills and expertise in each field. The course aims to improve "IV ① Ability to identify problems and ② Ability to think" by understanding the structure and characteristics of speech and vocalization methods, and "IV ④ Ability to communicate and express oneself" by improving one's own English pronunciation skills using the basic knowledge of English phonetics acquired in the course.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	In-class work: 20%. Assignments (10% per assignment): 40% Final assignment: 40%

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Introduction to English Linguistics
ナンバリング／Numbering	85252
担当教員名／Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Students will understand the basic features of English in the fields of English history, morphology, semantics, syntax, pragmatics, sociolinguistics, and language policy. Although the focus will be on English, the course will study "language" in general, taking familiar examples of how language works and changes. Students will study in advance using preparatory handouts as weekly assignments. During class, students will deepen their understanding through group discussions and group presentations, which will be summarized in a final assignment. Students will enhance their expertise in international courses through English studies, think deeply about the English language, reflect on their own English learning process, and find challenges to their English acquisition. Students are required to come to class with the same amount of time allotted as for the class, and to be sure to prepare for the scope of the texts covered in class. In addition, based on the review of the preparatory handouts, students should review them for the final assignment summary.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication Studies, "IV Applied skills and expertise in each field," and to improve "IV ① Ability to discover problems, ② Ability to think and think, ④ Ability to communicate and express oneself. Specifically, the goal is to acquire basic knowledge of each field of English studies, to increase interest in language, and to improve the ability to apply this knowledge to one's own English studies.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Weekly assignments 60 Final assignment 40

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Advanced Media English
ナンバリング / Numbering	85271
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The structure and transmission methods of communication through various media will be analyzed and examined to learn to understand the information and messages being transmitted more quickly and accurately. Specifically, the following two points will be the learning outcomes. (1) Understand the characteristics of communication through various media. 2) To accurately understand information and messages transmitted in English.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the International Communication Department are to acquire the learning outcomes "Ⅲ Applied skills and expertise in each field" and to improve "Ⅳ ① Ability to discover problems", "Ⅳ ② Ability to think and think", and "Ⅳ ④ Ability to communicate and express oneself". Specifically, the course aims to acquire "highly specialized English language skills to understand information and messages transmitted in each media," to improve "the ability to discover problems and think," and to expand "communication skills in English.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Pre- & re-view 50% Class activities 30% Short report 20%

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Advanced Reading
ナンバリング／Numbering	85272
担当教員名／Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Students will read "Boy-Tales of Childhood" by Ronald Dahl each week. Pre-assignments include reading the week's unit and summarizing key points, reading comprehension exercises, Japanese-English translations, and preparation for discussion of the theme. At home, students will read and understand English texts at their own pace and enjoy the pleasure of reading literary works. In addition to reading comprehension, enjoy learning about the background of the times in which the stories were written and about British culture, and experience the depth of the English language. Develop the ability to read English sentences of a certain length through careful and thorough reading of approximately 600-700 words each week, and by using the grammatical items and expressions used in the sentences to express your feelings.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "applied skills and expertise in each field. Specifically, the course aims to improve "the ability to think" through reading works of English literature, "the ability to devise" through writing summaries and presenting one's own ideas, and "the ability to communicate" through group work.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Homework completed and submitted to Manaba 30%, Preparation check test 30%, Comprehension check test 25%, Final assignment 10%, CASEC 5%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	English Communication I
ナンバリング / Numbering	85311
担当教員名 / Instructor	IAN RITCHIE DAVIDSON KELVIN CLAYTON BARRY JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Students will learn how to express their opinions on current topics, daily life, aspirations, hobbies, and other topics that are familiar and interesting to them. The program is designed to help students improve their conversational skills and fluency through interactive exercises and individual preparation. Listening skills are also reinforced. Writing exercises are also used to consolidate expressive skills. Students are placed in classes according to their level of English proficiency based on a placement test. In this class, the goal is to improve communication and expression skills, focusing on speaking skills and expressive writing skills, among other basic learning skills and fundamental knowledge of English. The learning outcome goal is to be able to use basic English in real-life situations and to be able to use the skills necessary for communication.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the course are to improve "communication and expression skills," "basic knowledge and learning skills," and "basic skills for working adults and career development. Specifically, the goals are to acquire speaking skills, to improve writing skills, and to improve English communication skills as a basic skill for working adults, respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Attendance: 25%, Homework (word list): 15%, Short Speaking Test: 10%, Writing: 20%, Final Speaking Test: 25%, ELCA: 5%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	English Communication II
ナンバリング / Numbering	85312
担当教員名 / Instructor	IAN RITCHIE DAVIDSON KELVIN CLAYTON BARRY JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Students will learn how to express their opinions on current topics, daily life, aspirations, hobbies, and other topics that are familiar and interesting to them. The program is designed to help students improve their conversational skills and fluency through interactive exercises and individual preparation. Listening skills are also reinforced. Writing exercises are also used to consolidate expressive skills. Students are placed in classes according to their level of English proficiency based on a placement test. In this class, the goal is to improve communication and expression skills, focusing on speaking skills and expressive writing skills, among other basic learning skills and fundamental knowledge of English. The learning outcome goal is to be able to use basic English in real-life situations and to be able to use the skills necessary for communication.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the course are to improve "communication and expression skills," "basic knowledge and learning skills," and "basic skills for working adults and career development. Specifically, the goals are to acquire speaking skills, to improve writing skills, and to improve English communication skills as a basic skill for working adults, respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Attendance: 25%, Homework (word list): 15%, Short Speaking Test: 10%, Writing: 20%, Final Speaking Test: 25%, ELCA: 5%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	English for Global Citizens
ナンバリング / Numbering	85331
担当教員名 / Instructor	MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	With the cooperation of outside organizations such as JICA (Japan Overseas Cooperation Volunteers) Komakane Training Center during the summer vacation, students will take an intensive 4-day English communication and cross-cultural understanding experience program in a small group of up to 15 students at our university. The program is designed to reaffirm the theories on international understanding learned in the spring semester course "Introduction to International Exchange" in an intensive English program by native English speakers and in a shared international understanding workshop by lecturers from Japan and abroad who have extensive experience abroad. Details will be presented prior to course registration.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the department are to develop "applied skills and expertise in each field," "ability to identify problems," and "communication and expression skills," specifically to enhance "applied skills and expertise in English communication and cross-cultural understanding," to develop "ability to identify various problems in cross-cultural understanding through practical activities," and to improve "communication and expression skills for daily use in English.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Program Participation and Reflection 70%. Post-program report 30%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Business Communication
ナンバリング / Numbering	85332
担当教員名 / Instructor	JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The goal of Business English I is to improve English communication skills used in the business world. Using the textbook as a resource, students will spend the majority of time speaking with each other in English in a fun, relaxed environment.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The department's learning outcomes: "Acquisition of applied skills and expertise in each field," support for "acquisition of useful qualifications (TOEIC)," and improvement of "communication and expression skills" are targeted. Specifically, the course aims to 'acquire basic English skills required in business situations, explore issues in various business situations, confirm basic English expressions used in such situations, and improve English communication skills that can be applied in actual situations.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class Work/Participation 40%、 Unit Tests 30%、 English Report 25%、 ELCA: 5%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Presentation Strategies
ナンバリング / Numbering	85351
担当教員名 / Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed to help students become able to give speeches in English as a preliminary step to giving presentations in English. Students will learn how to effectively construct various types of speeches, along with grammar, vocabulary, and listening skills. By repeating speeches every hour, the course aims to help students remove their weak points and become active speakers in English. No English proficiency is required, but classes will be taught in English as much as possible.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of the course are to help students acquire "basic knowledge and learning skills," "the ability to devise effective speeches" by thinking of ways to communicate effectively, and "communication skills" through speeches and speaking in class in English.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Classroom Attitude and Reflection 30%, Speech per unit 50%, Final Speech 15%, ELCA Score 5%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	English Presentation
ナンバリング / Numbering	85352
担当教員名 / Instructor	JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In class, students will discuss a topic of their choice, summarize their thoughts, and practice vocal, gestural, and visual usage. Specific activities include discussion, debate, and research-based presentations. The goal of this course is to improve students' ability to express their ideas in English and to speak English with greater confidence, while stimulating their thinking and demonstrating their ability to be creative. The course also aims to improve students' professional English skills necessary for conducting discussions, debates, and presentations in English. TOEIC L&R 400~500, CEFR A2
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the course are to improve "communication and expression," "ability to think," and "ability to devise". Specifically, the goal is to improve "the ability to express one's own thoughts in English and to speak English with more confidence, while activating the ability to think and to exercise one's ingenuity.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Classwork 50%、 Solo Presentations 45%、 ELCA: 5%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Writing Strategies
ナンバリング / Numbering	85371
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAMURA YOICHI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Students will learn to expand their ability to write opinions about things close to them using basic texts on writing strategies. Specifically, the following two points will be the learning outcomes. (1) Understand the basic structure of an essay. (ii) Write an essay in English on a given topic, referring to a model
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the International Communication Department are to improve the learning outcomes "Ⅱ Basic knowledge and learning skills", "Ⅲ Applied ability and expertise in each field", "Ⅳ Ability to discover problems, ② Ability to think and think, ④ Ability to communicate and express". Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic learning skills through continuous study," to improve "the ability to discover problems and think by engaging in English study," and "English communication skills with a focus on writing.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Preparation 50%. In-class work: 30%. Summary assignment: 20%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Essay Writing
ナンバリング / Numbering	85372
担当教員名 / Instructor	JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	STEP 1 Process Writing, which is the process of writing each sentence in English and how to follow the writing process. STEP 2 Paragraph Writing, which teaches the structure of a paragraph STEP 3: Essay Writing, in which students link paragraphs together. Students will build their writing skills through these three steps, and finally, they will challenge themselves to write an essay. While confirming basic English skills and fundamental knowledge, the goal is to further apply these skills to improve communication and expression in English writing. The learning outcome is to be able to write a coherent English text with three to four paragraphs on a single page of A4 paper as an English expression skill.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	Learning outcomes of the department: The goals are to improve "communication and expression skills," "thinking and thinking ability," and "applied skills and expertise in each field. Specifically, the goal is to improve "the communicative ability to write in English by confirming basic skills and fundamental knowledge of English and further applying those skills.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class activities: 20%, Assignments: 45%, Final essay: 30%, ELCA: 5%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to International Exchange
ナンバリング / Numbering	85411
担当教員名 / Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this course, students will acquire the basic knowledge of cross-cultural understanding necessary to live in a society filled with diversity. The final outcome of the course will be to deepen your understanding and have your own answers to the following three questions. (1) What is a different culture and what is its background? (2) What is important in understanding different cultures? (3) What do you think is important for cross-cultural exchange in the future?
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the "basic knowledge and learning skills" that are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, to improve their "problem-finding skills" by considering problems that may occur in different cultures and measures to resolve cross-cultural conflicts, and to improve their "thinking skills" by working on weekly assignments.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class attitude/reaction paper 30%, assignment submission 30%, final assignment 40%

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Intercultural Communication
ナンバリング／Numbering	85412
担当教員名／Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	When trying to communicate with people from different cultural backgrounds, what is required is a flexible mind and the ability to adapt to the differences, rather than only thinking in absolute terms of one's own customs and ways of thinking. In this class, we will acquire the basic knowledge for intercultural communication and consider the desirable attitude. We will build on the knowledge acquired in the Introduction to International Exchange to make cross-cultural encounters enjoyable. Then, deepen your understanding of the following three items and find answers in your own way. (1) Understanding of terminology necessary for cross-cultural communication and the ability to explain it, (2) What kind of devices are necessary to facilitate communication, and (3) What communication skills are necessary when encountering different cultures in working and living in society in the future.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to acquire "Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills," which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Through group discussions and simulations, the course aims to improve "communication and expression skills" and "ingenuity".
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Class attitude/reaction paper 30%, assignment submission 30%, final assignment 40%

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Multicultural Studies
ナンバリング／Numbering	85413
担当教員名／Instructor	YABUTA YUKIKO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	Society is becoming more diverse and multicultural, and we hear the term "multicultural conviviality" in many places. Global movements that transcend national borders generate great energy and create new cultures. On the other hand, we are also seeing a rise in self-culture-centered thinking. From now on, whether we like it or not, we will live in a multicultural society. Before going out into the world, let's further enhance the knowledge we have accumulated from Introduction to International Exchange and Intercultural Communication and think again about a multicultural society. (Class plans are subject to change)
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "applied skills and expertise in each field. Through group discussions and assignments, the course aims to improve "the ability to discover problems" and "the ability to devise solutions.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Classroom attitude/reaction paper 30%, assignment submission 30%, final assignment 40%

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	American Area Studies
ナンバリング / Numbering	85431
担当教員名 / Instructor	JOHN STEPHAN WRIGHT
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The United States of America is a large, diverse nation that has welcomed immigrants from all over the world, and its politics, economy, media, education, and values have influenced the world, including Japan. 2017 saw the inauguration of Donald Trump as the 45th President of the United States, and opinions for and against him have largely divided the country. Currently, issues such as illegal immigration, fake news (false reporting), terrorism, discrimination, gender, and abortion continue to shake the country. This course will provide students with basic knowledge and the ability to think about the U.S. and deepen their understanding of the country as they compare it to Japan. Specifically, students will learn through lectures, handouts, class discussions, individual research and presentations. Students will also create an "American Culture Journal. There will be two quizzes. Students are required to read at least one book about America and write a book report. Students will enjoy using both English and Japanese in the classroom.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "III. Basic Knowledge and Study Skills" and to improve "V. Problem-finding, Thinking, and Thinking Skills". Specifically, the goal is to acquire basic knowledge and thinking skills of the U.S. and to deepen understanding of the U.S. in comparison with Japan.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	American Culture Journal (25%), two quizzes (20%), book report (20%), participation in each class (30%), ELCA (5%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	European Area Studies
ナンバリング / Numbering	85432
担当教員名 / Instructor	MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The European region is relatively small but has a diverse history and culture, and although often thought of in terms of countries, it is organically connected as a region. Students will learn basic information such as the geography of European countries and an overview of their history, while taking into consideration their impact on Japan, and select a wide range of themes from Europe's past and present to deepen their understanding of Europe as a whole. Structure of each session: 1. (1) Preparation test for the relevant subject area, (2) Preparation test for the relevant subject area, and (2) Presentation or group discussion (several times) on the designated theme (country/region) (3) Supplementation and summary of the theme, (4) Video and class mini-report
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of the course are to improve the students' learning outcomes: to acquire "applied skills and expertise in each field," to improve their "ability to identify problems," and to improve their "ability to think and consider. Specifically, the objectives are to "confirm basic knowledge of European regions and cultures, and acquire expertise in European or Western culture," "improve the ability to discover the current situation and problems in each region while considering the role Europe has played historically," and "improve the ability to consider and solve these problems from the perspective of their relationship with Japan. The goal of the course is to improve the students' knowledge of Europe and European and American culture.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Preparation check test or class mini-report 40%, assignment presentation (individual or group) 10%, mid-term geography test 20% (may be re-tested if insufficient) Final report (specifics of an original and unique European tour): 30%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	English Literature
ナンバリング / Numbering	85433
担当教員名 / Instructor	MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course provides an overview of literature written in English from the 18th century to the present day in England, the U.S., and other regions, focusing on the novel, with particular attention to its relationship to people's social lives. Each session will focus on one or several representative writers of each period. The class is lecture-based, but students will read representative short stories in translation each time, or read some of them in the original, and have short presentations and discussions on selected themes and topics to consider universal themes that are relevant to the present day. The goal is to actually view approximately 20 short stories, and while enhancing understanding of the culture of the countries and regions where English is spoken, we also want to expose students to many of the English expressions used in literary works. At the same time, we would like to rediscover the appeal of the written medium. Although literary works can be a bit tedious, they are actually a highly cost-effective and efficient role-playing game. If you read each work carefully, you will be able to experience an interesting life that you do not know about in real life.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The goals of the English Literature Course are to improve the students' "ability to apply and specialize in each field," "ability to discover problems," and "ability to think and express oneself. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic knowledge of English literature and understanding of representative works," to improve "the ability to discover problems related to human nature and life, which are still prevalent in modern life," and to improve "the ability to think about and resolve various issues.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Short reading report or class mini-report (each time) 50% (each time) Work report (2 medium length works) 30%. Final exam (Literary history test, short story reading comprehension test): 20%.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Japanese Cultural Studies
ナンバリング／Numbering	85451
担当教員名／Instructor	MURATA NOBUYUKI
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	We will review contemporary Japanese society and culture by looking at various aspects of Japanese daily life, including food, clothing, housing, customs, religion, modern technology, and anime, and by exploring the characteristics of Japanese culture and its cultural background, which can be found throughout the course. There is a possibility that a PowerPoint presentation on the theme of each session will be given. Each session will be taught using English textbooks, and students will be expected to be able to explain the topics to foreigners in English. Thinking about Japanese culture is also a way of looking at oneself. Please read through the scope of the preparatory study thoroughly, face Japanese culture with an open mind, and think about various things without being preoccupied with preconceived notions.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	The goals of the course are to acquire "applied knowledge and expertise in each field," to improve "the ability to identify problems," and to improve "the ability to think and think. Specifically, the goals are to "enhance expertise in understanding Japanese culture and international understanding," "improve the ability to identify problems in group discussions," and "improve the ability to think about the essence and current state of Japanese culture, armed with English language skills sufficient to serve as a guide in international exchange.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	(1) Mini-report/vocabulary test (every class) and group discussion sheets (about several times) 50% (2) Class presentation or mid-term report (2) Class presentation or mid-term report 20% (3) End-of-term test (summary of vocabulary test and written questions) (3) End-of-term test (summary of vocabulary test and written questions) 30%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Korean Culture Studies
ナンバリング / Numbering	85452
担当教員名 / Instructor	BAE HOJOO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The relationship between China, Korea, and Japan, which is a culture of Chinese characters, is deep in many areas. In this class, students learn about Korea, a country that is geographically close to Japan, by researching its culture and history, and by studying materials and watching videos. This class is designed to enhance students' historical knowledge, ability to identify social problems, and ability to think for themselves while considering the relationship with Japan and the role of Japan in the future.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," "ability to identify problems," and "ability to think and think."
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	40% of each debate & reaction paper 20% of final presentation 40% of final exam

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Tourism
ナンバリング / Numbering	86111
担当教員名 / Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Recently, there have been many opportunities to rethink deeply how tourism is related to our daily lives and how it can be utilized in local communities. This course provides the basic knowledge of what tourism is, what kind of industry it is, and what are the characteristics of the tourism business. It is desirable for students to be interested in what is happening on a daily basis and to look up places and keywords that they have never heard of. In response to the change in people's awareness of tourism, the course will discuss the future of tourism, using actual examples of what is happening in the tourism business and at tourist attractions.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire "Basic Knowledge and Study Skills", to improve "V Seisen Spirit (ability to identify problems)", and to improve "V Seisen Spirit (ability to think and think)", which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Specifically, the goals are to "acquire basic knowledge of the tourism industry" and "recognize problems in the tourism industry and regional tourism, and to be able to express one's own ideas in areas of interest," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Assignments and comment sheets for each theme 70%, end-of-term report 20%, group work/discussion 10%. SJC Manaba will be used for all assignments and comment sheets.

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Tourism and Area Studies
ナンバリング／Numbering	86112
担当教員名／Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期／Semester	SPRING
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	The objectives of this course are to understand the current state of tourist destinations in the prefecture that are in dire straits, to explore how to create sustainable communities by referring to examples of tourism town planning in and outside of the prefecture, and to investigate and discover the charm of lodging towns, which are historical and cultural tourism resources that remain in the prefecture. Specifically, the objectives are: 1) to research famous inn towns remaining in Nagano Prefecture and gain basic knowledge about the history and characteristics of their formation (through a tourism geography quiz), and 2) to visit and report on traditional building preservation districts and summarize their attractiveness in the form of a brochure or other information.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	The goal of this course is to improve the learning outcomes of the International Communication Department V "Ability to think and think" and "Ability to discover problems". Specifically, "Through learning activities such as researching the history and characteristics of inn towns in Nagano Prefecture, students will improve their overall ability (geographical knowledge, information skills, and written expression) to communicate to young people the attractions of tourist destinations in the prefecture.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	Research assignment (40%), two quizzes (20%), participation in fieldwork (20%), and preparation of deliverables (20%)

科目基礎情報／Course information

科目名／Course title	Introduction to the Travel Industry
ナンバリング／Numbering	86131
担当教員名／Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期／Semester	AUTUMN
単位数／Credits	2
授業形態／Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報／Course description

授業の概要 ／Course description	The course will start with learning about the travel industry, which is the core of the tourism industry, and will enable students to understand what has been happening in the travel industry and what is happening now by referring to data published by the Japan Tourism Agency and the Japan National Tourism Organization. The aim of this course is to (1) understand the structure of the travel business and its work while acquiring knowledge of domestic and international travel geography, and (2) to be able to take a multifaceted look at the travel business from the perspective of sustainable tourism. It is advisable to prepare for the class by daily researching general information on tourist attractions and technical terms in the text.
到達目標（授業の目標） ／Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "III Basic Knowledge and Study Skills", "V Seisen Spirit (ability to think and think)", and "V Seisen Spirit (ability to devise)". Specifically, the goals are "to be able to explain the origins of the travel industry and its characteristics and issues," and "to be able to think about issues in the tourism and travel industry, think about ways to solve these issues, and express opinions that are not uniform," targeting local tourist attractions.
成績評価方法 ／Evaluation	50% of the assignment submission and comment sheet (using SJC Manaba), 10% of the final report, 30% of the final report, and 10% of group work and discussion.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Tourism Service Practice
ナンバリング / Numbering	86132
担当教員名 / Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this course, students will learn the series of steps in the tourism industry, especially the discovery of tourism materials, tour planning, and travel implementation, in a practical and easy-to-understand manner. Students will learn the basic hospitality and attitude required for each service practice, and will be able to understand the flow and role of the service as a practice. In information gathering and planning, students will select a tourist destination of interest from a list of options, and work on what elements of tourism they would like to see in the destination. In the middle of the class plan, around November, we plan to conduct a half-day to one-day group field training in Nagano City. (Depending on the year and the number of students, it may be necessary to adjust the destination and content, so those who wish to take the course should attend the initial orientation. After the number of participants is confirmed, the date of the practical training and the date of each item in the lesson plan will be fixed).
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to acquire the learning outcomes of the International Communication Department, "applied skills and expertise in each field," and to improve the Seisen Spirit's "ability to discover problems," "ability to devise," and "communication and expression skills. Specifically, the goals are to "be able to collect information necessary for tourism services," "be able to think about, devise, and concretely demonstrate services that utilize the knowledge and hospitality gained," and "be able to explain one's attitude toward service work.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Attitude toward participation in this class and contribution to group work (20%), submission of assignments (30%), tourist geography quiz (20%), practical work and experience report (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Domestic Travel Training
ナンバリング / Numbering	86133
担当教員名 / Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	To practice itinerary management and sightseeing guidance incorporating familiar sightseeing spots in Japan, especially in Nagano Prefecture. The goal is to learn the knowledge required for tourism geography and tour guide services while paying attention to the problems faced by local tourism, and to be able to consider and act on a variety of responses and guidance tailored to the needs of travelers. Students will be able to know the level of knowledge and action required in tourism practice. (* Intensive on-campus lectures are held in May, and off-campus practical training to experience tour guide practice and sightseeing guidance is held in July (both on Saturdays and Sundays), as well as several regular classroom lectures). In addition to the unit subjects, students will experience all aspects of tour operator and tourist information work by synthesizing the knowledge they have accumulated and learned since their first year, and acquire the ability to act and apply hospitality. In principle, students are required to participate in all sessions, including off-campus training, as there is group work and assignments directly related to the practical training. Please check the course requirements in advance. Please be sure to attend the first orientation session to learn more about the dates and other details of the course.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "IVApplicability and expertise in each field," "VImprovement of Seisen Spirit (communication and expression skills)," and "VImprovement of Seisen Spirit (ability to act). Specifically, the goals are to "understand the knowledge and customer service attitude required for itinerary management, and to develop the ability to act with ingenuity" and "to be able to plan and manage itinerary management for local tourist attractions by synthesizing the knowledge that has been learned.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Attitude and commitment to this class (40%), submission of assignments (30%), commitment to practical training and experience report (30%) In principle, participation in all intensive lectures and classroom lectures, including off-campus practical training, is required.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Sustainability Theory
ナンバリング / Numbering	86151
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Today's affluent lifestyles are supported by the information society and vast energy resources. In the information society, we are trying to build a dream society such as smart cities with the rapid development of artificial intelligence. On the other hand, it is essential to build a sustainable society, aiming for [coexistence of energy resources, innovation, and people]. In addition, there are many issues to be addressed to achieve this goal. In this lecture, while conforming to the official textbook of the Environmental Society Certification Examination (eco certification), students will acquire a broad knowledge of the environment in order to promote a "sustainable society (sustainable society)" that balances the environment and the economy. In addition, students will be able to explain through examples of environmental management (SDGs, ISO14001, etc.) for environmental problems and conservation activities of individuals, companies, organizations, and local governments.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field" and the "Seisen Spirit (the ability to discover problems and take action)". Specifically, the course aims to improve "specialized knowledge of the environment" and "the ability to discover familiar environmental problems and to take action to improve them".
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Exercises and small reports (60%), Attitude (10%), Final exam (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Industry Research
ナンバリング / Numbering	86211
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Currently, there are more than 100 industries in Japan, each with its own unique customs and profit structure. In addition, industry structures themselves are rapidly changing due to globalization and the advancement of information technology in recent years. In this course, students will not simply memorize the characteristics of each industry, but will be able to "analyze" the industry structure by themselves using major analysis methods such as 5F analysis and 3C analysis. To make the course more interesting for students, we will analyze the structure of the idol industry, to which Johnny's Office belongs, and the video distribution industry, in which many You Tubers are active. By taking this course, students will be able to compare and contrast the differences in industry structure and will be able to make use of this information in their job hunting activities.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "II Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills," improve "IV-① Problem Identification Skills," and "IV-② Thinking Skills and Thinking Ability. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "Basic analytical framework," improve "Ability to identify problems in the industry," and improve "Ability to analyze industry structure," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz (50%), Presentation (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Business Administration Exercise
ナンバリング / Numbering	86212
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In the first year, students have learned various theories related to business activities. However, in actual business settings, students must not only "know" what they are doing in their heads, but must also be able to "do" it by actually moving their hands and feet. Therefore, in this course, students will deepen their practical learning by opening stalls at flea markets (two times in total). Specifically, students will formulate their own business plans and develop sales activities based on those plans. They will then evaluate their business in the process of reporting their financial results and acquire the intuition to succeed in their business. By attending this course, students can expect to acquire the practical skills required of working adults.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "Ⅲ Applied skills and expertise in each field," "IV-③ Improvement of ability to devise," and "IV-⑤ Improvement of ability to take action. Specifically, the goals of this course are to improve the "ability to do" the content of first-year study, the "ability to formulate unique business plans," and the "ability to independently collect and analyze information" respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Business plan (50%), financial statements (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Entrepreneurship Studies
ナンバリング / Numbering	86213
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In recent years, as diverse work styles have been encouraged, more and more people have begun to take on side jobs outside of work hours. In addition, an increasing number of women are starting their own companies at a young age, making the most of their skills and hobbies. This movement away from corporate "employment," whether large or small, is likely to accelerate in the future. In addition, an increasing number of people are becoming "social entrepreneurs" who not only pursue profits but also aim to solve social issues at the same time. In this lecture, you will learn how to achieve economic independence and contribute to society. First, students will reconsider the significance of entrepreneurship by experiencing the worldview of famous entrepreneurs through watching videos. Next, students will try a side business for about 2 to 3 weeks and actually earn revenue. Finally, we will take up businesses that have achieved rapid growth, such as "Starbucks" and "Book-Off," and unravel the reasons why they were able to succeed from the perspective of their business models. By attending this lecture, you will be able to expand the possibilities of working independent of a company as one option for realizing your own unique way of life.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "IV Applied skills and expertise in each field," "V-③ Improvement of ability to devise" and "V-⑤ Improvement of ability to act" respectively. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "Business Model Canvas," improve "Ability to formulate unique business plans," and improve "Execution ability to collect and analyze information independently," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Secondary results (50%), quiz (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Marketing Psychology
ナンバリング / Numbering	86231
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Have you ever casually picked up an item at a convenience store and purchased it? Can you rationally explain why you picked up the item and purchased it? Today, due to the manipulation of impressions by various media, we consumers purchase products that companies intend for us without being aware of it. And even if we are aware, why can't we control our desires? Why do we become addicted to the products and services we use? In this lecture, we will explore the essence of consumer purchasing behavior, citing research findings from "consumer behavior theory" and "behavioral economics. This lecture will be conducted through a mixture of classroom lectures and exercises. The course will examine the factors that influence consumer behavior through a wealth of case studies (e.g., TV commercial videos). Exercises: Students will try their hand at video production, utilizing the knowledge they have acquired in the classroom. By attending this lecture, students can expect to acquire the theory and techniques to promote consumer purchasing behavior.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "IV Applied skills and expertise in each field," "V-③ Improvement of ability to devise" and "V-④ Improvement of communication and expression skills. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "knowledge of consumer behavior theory/behavioral economics," improve "ability to make proposals free from stereotypes," and improve "effective promotion skills," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz (80%), Production video (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Innovation Theory
ナンバリング / Numbering	86232
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In recent years, the rapid development of information technology has dissolved industry boundaries and intensified inter-industry competition. Against this backdrop, startups such as Amazon.com have begun to overturn existing industry rules and form a new industry order. Even markets with high barriers to entry, such as the automotive industry, could lose market share to IT companies. This trend is likely to accelerate in all industries. Perhaps the companies to which you have been offered jobs are no exception. Therefore, in this lecture, we will consider the future of the companies to which you have been offered jobs (companies where you hope to find employment), and together we will think about their future visions, using "innovation" as a starting point. In particular, since the impact of technological innovation is extremely large, the class will proceed by absorbing the latest technological trends from videos (news and documentaries). Rather than simply memorizing/understanding the content of the lectures, we will deepen our consideration of how the companies to which we offer job offers can survive in an industry that is undergoing remarkable change.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication "Ⅲ Applied skills and expertise in each field", to improve "IV-② Ability to think and think", and to improve "IV-③ Ability to devise". Specifically, the goals are to broaden students' "insight into technology," improve their "ability to build businesses using technology," and improve their "ability to redefine business from a new perspective," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz (50%), Presentation (50%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Business Thinking
ナンバリング / Numbering	86251
担当教員名 / Instructor	NAKAJINA TAKURO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In recent years, with the spread of information terminals, it has become possible to collect vast amounts of information. Therefore, in the field of business, it is now required to collect/analyze known information and "how to make decisions correctly" rather than "how much information to have". Therefore, in this lecture, students will learn methodologies for rational decision making. Specifically, students will learn methods to derive rational solutions based on a scientific approach to problem solving. Students will also learn the thinking process of "what" and "what procedures" are needed to derive the correct answer. Students will learn through hands-on activities using familiar cases that they face in their daily lives. By attending this lecture, you will acquire general-purpose thinking skills to deal with all kinds of problems (both business and personal).
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication Studies, "II Basic Knowledge and Study Skills," improve "IV-① Ability to Discover Problems," and improve "IV-② Ability to Think and Thinking. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "problem-solving methods," to improve "the ability to identify the essence of problems," and to improve "the ability to patiently search for causes and solution ideas.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz (70%), Presentation (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Business Practice and Mental Care
ナンバリング / Numbering	86252
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The purpose of this class is to train two corporate practical skills: [first half: mental care skills] and [second half: idea generation skills]. The first half will focus on acquiring the psychological skills necessary to work in the workplace, such as overwork, stress care, mental care, and resilience, which are issues in today's society. The second half of the course will focus on the acquisition of idea generation skills. In corporate practice, there are many situations where innovative ideas are required. Students will acquire skills that will enable them to exercise their creativity without being bound by stereotypes after employment. The second half of the course will utilize the ITSS program of one of Japan's leading consulting firms (BCON Learning Services, Inc.), which is also used in the education of working professionals.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "applied skills and expertise in each field," and to improve the "Seisen Spirit (the ability to devise and communicate). Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic knowledge and skills for mental care and idea generation" and to improve "ingenuity for idea generation and group communication skills," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Short report (60%), Summary report (10%), Attitude (10%), Mutual evaluation of presentations (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Basic Information Exercise
ナンバリング / Numbering	86311
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA TANAKA RIKA
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In the class, students will learn how to use the university system, how to send and receive e-mail, and how to create business documents. During the final exam week, students will aim to pass the "Nissho PC Certification Test (Document Preparation Level 3)". Students will not only learn how to operate a PC, but also deepen their understanding of the meaning and structure of PC operation through exercises and lectures, assuming that they will be able to use the PC in their future work. In addition, a person in charge of presentation may be assigned in class to explain the exercises. Students will acquire the knowledge and skills to create business documents using personal computers, as well as applied documents containing charts, photographs, etc., and acquire the "ability to utilize information equipment" in the workplace. In addition, students will learn how to prepare reports and presentation materials, which are essential for their future life at junior college.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire "basic knowledge and learning skills", acquire "useful qualifications", and improve "basic skills for working adults and career development", which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic knowledge and operation skills for business document creation," to pass the "Nissho PC Certification Test (Level 3 in document creation)," and to improve "touch typing skills and the ability to learn independently," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Assignment submission status (50%), Attitude (10%), Comprehensive practice or examination results (20%), SJC Learning [STEP Course] implementation status (10%), Touch typing skills (10%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Information Application Exercise
ナンバリング / Numbering	86312
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA TANAKA RIKA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Acquire all the functions and operations of spreadsheet software required in the workplace, and be able to solve various exercises to be able to tabulate, classify, sort, and calculate data according to work instructions. Students will also acquire the ability to create graphs from the created tables and analyze business data using pivot tables, extraction, tabulation, etc. In class, students may be assigned a person in charge of explaining the problems. In the second half of the class, students will work on mock problems for the Nissho PC Certification Test Data Application Level 3, and at the end of the class, the actual test will be administered. Students will acquire the ability to accurately and quickly create business databases using spreadsheet software, and to tabulate, classify, and graph data.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to acquire "basic knowledge and learning skills", acquire "useful qualifications", and improve "basic skills for working adults and career development", which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic knowledge and operating skills of spreadsheet software," to pass the "Nissho PC Certification Test (Information Use Level 3)," and to "improve data application skills as a basic skill for working adults.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Assignment submission status (60%), Attitude (10%), Comprehensive practice (20%), Examination results (10%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Information Science
ナンバリング / Numbering	86313
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Through the use of exercises and web-based materials, students will learn the following contents. In addition, students will present what they have learned in the form of a presentation in class. Efficient collection of information and its verification, 2. Safe use of information to avoid various troubles and risks, 3. Use, analysis and judgment of numerical data (data science) 4. Appropriate use of information after organizing and managing it in an easy-to-use manner; and 5. How to convey information to other companies in an easy-to-understand manner and gain their understanding and acceptance. Today, the term "information society" has become widespread, and it is becoming more commonplace for everyone to be able to use information as a matter of course. On the other hand, what are the skills required in the business world? It is "the ability to utilize information". In this class, students will acquire the practical skills required today to enhance their "ability to utilize information," which is highly valued in society.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "basic skills for working adults and career development," to acquire "applied skills and expertise in various fields," and to "acquire useful qualifications. Specifically, the goals of this course are to improve "the ability to think through the basic skills of working adults," to acquire "specialized information application skills related to information gathering and data analysis," and to improve scores on the "Diagnostic Test of Information Application Skills (Rasti)," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Submission of assignments (60%), Attitude (10%), Mutual evaluation of presentations (10%), Final exam (20%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Basic Programming Exercises
ナンバリング / Numbering	86331
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKAIKE TOMONORI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Interest in programming is growing rapidly with the implementation of the Courses of Study that include mandatory programming education from the 2020 academic year. This lecture aims to improve overall IT literacy through learning Python, the language that is currently attracting the most attention, by acquiring basic programming skills and enhancing understanding of related fields such as machine learning. As a final project, students will develop a program to recognize and judge handwritten characters (data created by students themselves as images) and conduct practical training.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "IV. Acquisition of applied skills and expertise in each field, V. Improvement of thinking skills and ability to think, V. Improvement of ability to think and ability to think, V. Improvement of ability to think and ability to think Improvement of the ability to think, and the ability to devise. (3) Ability to devise new ideas. Specifically, the objectives are to acquire "the skills to automate office work to a certain degree through Python programming" and to improve "the ability to think and devise ways to apply the acquired knowledge and skills to work" respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	The evaluation will be based on the ratio of 70% on the students' efforts in class and 30% on the final assignment.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Web Programming Exercises
ナンバリング / Numbering	86332
担当教員名 / Instructor	TANAKA RIKA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Students will learn how to use a text editor and image processing software (Photoshop) while being aware of recent website trends. After learning how to use the software, each student will create an introduction page about a memorable event in their junior college life. The students will enjoy creating their own pages while thinking about how to use photos effectively, what information they want people to know, and so on. The goal of the project is to publish the students' experiences during their two years of junior college life on the Department of International Communication's own website, so please be sure to collect photos and stories on a daily basis. Through a series of tasks up to the creation and publication of the website, the goal is to develop an understanding of how websites work and the ability to produce pages that suit the purpose of the website. By going through the process of finding out for yourself what is wrong with the code when a page does not display correctly, etc., and correcting it to the correct code, you will gain the ability to solve errors on your own and a sense of accomplishment!
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication IV. Acquisition of applied skills and expertise in each field, V. Improvement of the ability to think, V. Improvement of the ability to think, V. Improvement of the ability to think, V. Improvement of the ability to devise (3) Improvement of the ability to devise new ways of doing things, and (4) Improvement of the ability to think. Specifically, the objectives of this course are: 1) Establishment of basic knowledge of the Web, 2) Applied skills to tackle practical exercises, 3) Ability to plan what to convey using the Web, 4) How to compose headlines and create appealing images, and 5) Improvement of communication skills for mutual presentations.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Evaluation will be based on assignment submission status and quiz results (30%) and final project production (40%). In addition, since the objective of the class is to engage in the work of web design, the proactive approach to the class (30%) will also be included in the evaluation.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Graphic Design
ナンバリング / Numbering	86351
担当教員名 / Instructor	NATH KANCHUN
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	To grasp the overall picture of DTP and learn the basics of Illustrator and Photoshop, two of the most popular and common DTP software used in the real world, as well as the basics of image types, color handling, and the differences between home printers and commercial printers, all of which are essential in the DTP field. Learn the basic knowledge of image types, color handling, and the differences between home printers and commercial printers. While acquiring the basic operations of DTP software, students will eventually acquire the ability to apply DTP through the production of practical flyers. In this day and age, the designing of various printed materials such as postcards, flyers, pamphlets, and posters are all done on a computer, and this field is called DTP (Desk Top Publishing). In this lecture, students will learn the basic knowledge of DTP, such as colors, types of images, photo retouching, vector art, etc., which are handled on the computer, and ultimately produce their own flyers. Students are expected to be able to operate a computer and handle files, and to understand the types of files by their file extensions.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve "the ability to think" and "the ability to devise," with the main goal of improving the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "applied skills and expertise in each field. Specifically, students will learn the basic knowledge of DTP, including colors used on computers, types of images, photo retouching, vector art, etc., with the ultimate goal of producing their own flyers.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	The evaluation will be based on the results of the final examination (40%), plus the submission of assignments (60%).

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Online Business Theory
ナンバリング / Numbering	86352
担当教員名 / Instructor	KUSAMA ZYUNYA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course explains the basics of marketing and online business that will be useful after entering the workforce. In order to deepen students' understanding of the lecture content, practical training will be provided on the basics of digital marketing, website creation, use of blogs and social networking services, and content creation. As the digital environment is rapidly changing, we will examine how companies and we can best utilize digital technology, and at the end of each lecture, students will be asked to output their impressions and summaries in a blog. We live in an age where we have smartphones in our hands every day, are in touch with the digital world, and are constantly connected to anyone, anywhere, anytime. In this class, students will learn about the Internet, the technologies and mechanisms that support the Web, and work in digital marketing, with the aim of ensuring a basic knowledge of the marketing and online business fields. Through lectures, case studies, and exercise assignments, the course aims to develop students' ability to discover problems as well as the benefits of the digital world and lead them to solutions.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The department aims to improve "the ability to apply and specialize in each field" and "the ability to discover and devise problems" of the department's learning outcomes. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic skills in digital marketing," to improve "writing skills for communicating on the web after entering the workforce," and to improve "the ability to see products and services from the customer's perspective. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "marketing frameworks," improve "writing skills," and improve "targeting skills," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Attitude toward class (30%), summary and description of each class (30%), final exam (40%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Color Design
ナンバリング / Numbering	86371
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The human living environment is influenced by "color" in all of its aspects. Therefore, it can be said that learning about color is useful in many areas. On the other hand, there are few opportunities to obtain theoretical and systematic knowledge about "color. In other words, without specialized education, knowledge and use of color tend to be based on personal feeling and rules of thumb. In this lecture, students will learn the contents compliant with the Color Proficiency Test Level 3, and acquire a wide range of knowledge and skills related to "color. The Color Proficiency Test covers a wide range of study areas, from the basics of color, to color schemes (how to combine colors), and their use in specialized fields. The Color Proficiency Test provides students with a theoretical foundation that is not based on sensibility or experience.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication: "applied skills and expertise in each field," "acquisition of useful qualifications," and "Seisen Spirit (expressiveness). Specifically, the goals of this course are to acquire "specialized knowledge of color," to "support the acquisition of qualifications for color certification," and to improve "expressive ability through the use of color.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Exercises and small reports submitted (40%), PCCS color dial creation (20%), Attitude (10%), Final exam (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Bookkeeping and Accounting
ナンバリング / Numbering	86411
担当教員名 / Instructor	WATANABE KENJI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	Bookkeeping, which is considered an indispensable business tool for commerce, is the universal language of accounting. If you want to play an active role in the business world in the future, mastering bookkeeping is essential. In this course, students learn the procedures of bookkeeping, from the bookkeeping of daily transactions in a company to the preparation of financial statements (financial statements), and then deepen their understanding of cash deposit transactions and commodity trading transactions as each theory. This course is designed for students to acquire the content of the beginning level of the JCCI Bookkeeping Examination (which can be taken on-campus on a PC). The curriculum of this course is linked to that of the second semester's Practice in Bookkeeping and Accounting, and students will aim to pass the third level of the JCCI Bookkeeping Examination by taking the courses in consecutive semesters. Therefore, it is recommended that students take this course in the first semester and the bookkeeping and accounting seminar in the second semester consecutively. The key to mastering bookkeeping is continuous study. Please do not miss any class, review every lecture and practice the work. You may be asked to submit the work. Please be sure to set aside time for exercises.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "Ⅲ. Basic Knowledge and Study Skills," "Ⅳ. Support for "Acquisition of Useful Qualifications", and "Ⅴ②. Improvement of "Ⅴ②. Thinking Skills and Thinking Abilities". Specifically, the goals of the program are to help students acquire "the system of double-entry bookkeeping and bookkeeping techniques," "the Nissho Bookkeeping Test, Beginner Level," and "the ability to think about the use of prepared financial statements," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Periodic examinations 60% assignment submissions 30% attitude 10%.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Introduction to Medical Office Work
ナンバリング / Numbering	86431
担当教員名 / Instructor	TARUTA IZUMI
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	This course is designed to provide students with basic knowledge of medical office work. By learning the basics of medical office work, medical insurance theory, and medical fee calculation, students will grasp the overall work of medical office work. In addition, students will learn the manners of hospitality required as a member of society and the manner of patient treatment required of medical office workers, which will be useful in practice.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed to help students acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "III. Acquisition of Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills, I. Improvement of Basic Social and Career Development Skills, IV. Improvement of basic skills and career development skills for working adults", and "IV. Support for the acquisition of useful qualifications. Specifically, the goals are to acquire "basic knowledge of the medical insurance system," "improve reception etiquette as a basic skill for working adults through a receptionist's role-play including patient care," and "basic knowledge of receipts and accounting related to medical fees," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Quiz on patient care, practice questions to check comprehension of medical insurance and reimbursement calculation (70%), proactive attitude toward the class, and submission of class notes (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Medical Office Work Exercise
ナンバリング / Numbering	86432
担当教員名 / Instructor	TARUTA IZUMI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In this course, students will learn "Medical Security System," "Basic Knowledge of Medical Fee System," and "Preparation and Inspection of Statements" necessary for medical clerks. The course aims to provide students with the basic knowledge and skills to work as clerks at medical institutions. Preparation is not required, but students are expected to review what they have learned in class before coming to the next class.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	Acquire basic knowledge and skills in medical fee billing paperwork and put that knowledge and skills into practice from an organizational perspective.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Practice questions to check understanding of medical insurance, medical fee calculation, and receipt inspection (70%) Independent attitude toward the class (30%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Office Work Theory I
ナンバリング / Numbering	86451
担当教員名 / Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	SPRING
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	In the field of business, including internships, and when choosing a career path, the presence or absence of basic and general abilities required in any field is questioned. Various concepts of social competence have been proposed, but "basic social competence" and "basic employment competence" are fundamental. The aim is to learn the basic knowledge required for office work and business society, such as "communication skills" including speaking, honorifics and documentation, and "business manners", and to acquire practical and learning skills through exercises. Students will acquire practical knowledge through exercises and pair work, and aim to pass the secretarial examination level 3 or above. A final examination will be held separately from the certification test. Class plans for the day of the secretarial examinations and precautions regarding nudes will be given at the first orientation. Please enter and read through the textbook (see below) before the first class.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objective of this course is to improve "basic knowledge and learning skills" and "basic knowledge for working adults and career development", which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. As for "acquisition of useful qualifications", students will be supported to aim for "Secretarial Certification Level 2 or Level 3".
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Submission of assignments and comment sheets (30%), role-playing participation (20%), small report on office work (10%), small test and final internal exam (40%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Office Work Theory II
ナンバリング / Numbering	86452
担当教員名 / Instructor	MORIMOTO YUKO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	What kind of corporate management should be conducted in order for companies to continue to exist and develop in the future with the progress of globalization? The key to business management is human resources, and not only foreign-affiliated companies but also in the future society, "international secretaries" who can use English and Japanese as a means of communication, have office work processing skills and rich human qualities are expected as global human resources. Students will learn the skills required to be an international secretary and various communication methods in Japanese and English through hands-on experience, and acquire practical knowledge and skills.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course is designed for students to acquire the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "IV. Practical ability and specificity in each field, support for "IV. Support for "IV. Useful Qualifications", " I . The aim is to improve "IV. basic ability for working adults and career development" and "III. ability to devise". Specifically, the objectives are to "1) understand corporate activities in the global society," "2) understand the role required of an international secretary and have the ability to think about how to work," and "3) acquire the broad perspective and education required of an international businessperson.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Submission of assignments and comment sheets (30%), participation and contribution to group work (20%), mid-term report (25%), submission of English and German report (25%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Business Practice
ナンバリング / Numbering	86471
担当教員名 / Instructor	KATASE TAKUYA
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The first half of the course will focus on filing techniques in business practice, and will help students understand the flow of information, work flow, and the role of clerical workers in a company through exercises. The first half of the course is designed to prepare students for the FD Level 3 and Level 2 Filing Designer Certificate (FD Level 3 Certification Course). In the second half, students will engage in practical management experience games (intensive lecture) in groups in order to understand the structure of corporate activities. In the process, students will think concretely about working in an office while learning business rules. The class method will utilize on-demand lectures, group work (intensive lecture), and submission of assignments via LMS.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to help students acquire "basic knowledge and learning skills," "acquire useful qualifications," and "improve career development and basic skills for working adults" as learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Specifically, the course aims to help students acquire "basic knowledge and skills related to business practices (especially filing)," support the acquisition of "filing designer level 2 or 3" qualifications, and improve "basic skills for working adults through experience in business management.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Assignment submission status (50%), Attitude (10%), Intensive lecture report (20%), Mid-term examination (10%), FD Level 2 examination results (10%)

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Financial Planning
ナンバリング / Numbering	86472
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEUTI SYUITI
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Seminar

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The theme of this course is something that students who are not interested in "money" can learn without difficulty. Students will learn proper financial sense and understand the importance of acquiring wisdom and financial knowledge based on statistics. The role of a financial planner (FP) is to help people realize their dreams and goals in life from a financial perspective, and FPs help people achieve not only financial wealth but also spiritual wealth by collecting and analyzing data such as family structure and assets, and then planning savings, investment plans, insurance, and inheritance strategies. We support our clients to achieve not only financial wealth but also spiritual wealth. The goal of this course is to learn financial literacy (knowledge) in the six areas of FP, to acquire a "financial sense", and to improve "human and communication skills". Depending on how you use it, money can be both poison and medicine. The sole purpose of this course is to acquire basic knowledge of personal finance that will be useful in society, and to be able to make use of that knowledge as much as possible when you become a member of society.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	The objectives of this course are to help students acquire "applied skills and expertise in each field," "acquire useful qualifications," and "improve the ability to think and think," which are the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication. Specifically, students will acquire "not only a sense of money and financial knowledge, but also basic knowledge of personal finance that is useful in society," "basic knowledge necessary for financial planners," and "the ability to think and devise ways to be independent," respectively.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	Class attendance and submission of homework (90%) and class participation (10%) will be judged comprehensively. No final exam will be given.

科目基礎情報 / Course information

科目名 / Course title	Social Security
ナンバリング / Numbering	86494
担当教員名 / Instructor	TAKEDA RUIKO
学期 / Semester	AUTUMN
単位数 / Credits	2
授業形態 / Course Type	Lecture

講義概要情報 / Course description

授業の概要 / Course description	The goal of this course is to enhance the learning outcomes V "ability to discover problems" and "ability to think and think. Specifically, the course will provide an overview of the systems and how they are used, focusing on the social insurance and social welfare systems that are necessary for working and living in society in the future. While acquiring general basic knowledge, students will examine structural issues such as contradictions in the systems and why they are in place, and consider where the need for reform lies, based on the fact that social security systems are subject to change according to socioeconomic and financial circumstances.
到達目標 (授業の目標) / Course objectives	This course aims to improve the learning outcomes of the Department of International Communication, "Basic Knowledge and Learning Skills" and "Ability to Discover Problems and Think and Think". Specifically, the course aims to enable students to understand the outline of the social security system and to be able to investigate and express their thoughts on the issues of the system corresponding to life risks according to their life stages.
成績評価方法 / Evaluation	(1) Five class comprehension quizzes (50%), (2) Two problem finding sheets (20%), (3) Group presentation (10%), (4) End-of-term report (20%)